

The Grant Writers Network of Rochester is proud to sponsor

Census Workshops for Development Professionals

Featuring US Census Trainer Arthur Bakis

Your choice of two times and locations!

Wed, August 11, 2010, 9am – noon
St. John Fisher College
Kearney Hall, Room 059

or

Thurs, August 12, 2010, 9am – noon
Rochester Educational Opportunity Center (REOC)

305 Andrews Street, Rochester, NY
(Blue Room)

Directions: From main campus entrance at intersection of East Ave. and 31F – drive straight down the main campus road (do not veer left). Kearney Hall is a big old building with a steeple on the left. Free parking anywhere on campus.

305 Andrews is off Clinton Avenue N. near the YWCA. Parking: If the REOC parking lot is full, $2 parking is available next door.

American FactFinder

The workshops are FREE,
but space is limited,
so please register with MacClurg Vivian at macclurg@frontiernet.net
no later than Monday, August 9th.

Participants will become familiar with the Census website, and learn efficient ways to access data pertinent to grant writing and fund development. Each workshop is in a computer lab so that all participants have hands-on training using the website. Similar material will be covered during each workshop, so you need only attend one.

Mr. Bakis will customize the training to the needs of participants, so please send questions, interests, and/or the types of data you would like. Send your questions when you register with MacClurg Vivian at macclurg@frontiernet.net by Monday, August 9th. Indicate which date please.

USCENSUSBUREAU

Helping You Make Informed Decisions

Your source for population, housing, economic, and geographic data

