

FORUM OF REGIONAL ASSOCIATIONS OF GRANTMAKERS

Post-Election Policy Update

Co-sponsored by the Funders Alliance of Upstate New York and the Forum of Regional Associations of Grantmakers

NOVEMBER 2 IS ELECTION DAY, WITH MANY IMPLICATIONS FOR GRANTMAKERS!!

YOU ARE INVITED to join a timely OVERVIEW of possible legislative or regulatory actions related to philanthropy. This program is specifically for the country's formal regional associations of grantmakers and their member foundation leaders.

In this era of increased interconnectedness between the public and nonprofit sectors, your regional association plays an important role in communicating your interests and views to your elected and appointed policymakers. In Congress and in the Internal Revenue Service, events are already unfolding that will make progress over the next year regardless of electoral outcomes. But in addition, the pending elections do add a layer of uncertainty to national policy decisions that could impact our work at the regional level. Thus good reconnaissance from Washington is more important than ever.

This national teleconference will be led by John A. Edie, former long-time General Counsel for the Council of Foundations, and current director in the Washington National Tax Services division of PricewaterhouseCoopers. John will provide his analysis on the key issues that could affect grantmaking institution, both in Congress and at the IRS or other regulatory agencies. He also will field select questions from participants.

The program will be offered two times, at a program fee of $15. Please choose from the dates below and register for the toll-free call-in number and other materials by clicking here.
